I'm very happy with it so far. #SEIKO_Melodies• Yes, you can. The music only plays when the area is in daylight or artificial light.. the electric eye senses the condition.. and the music is not played in the dark. You can also adjust the music volume.. and turn it to 0 if you want. • Not as I know. I know you can turn down the volume pretty low. I've never checked how low the music is. The music doesn't play when it's dark in the room. • It automatically turns off in the dark, not sure if it's an off switch, although you can cover the sensor and make it think it's night• Yes you can. Another song is almost the same. We assume that we need to contact the company as they assume to be guaranteed. This has just begun. We bought ours in the fall. Pat Arnold pat@majesticshillsbengals.com • The first one bought at Sams did the same. We returned it and bought from Amazon. It works perfect. • Our clock stop playing songs and then stop moving. Before we sent it in, we decided to change batteries. Found Made in China batteries. They appear to be cheap non-alkaline batteries even if it stands to use alkaline. Changed to USA Duracell Quantum Alkaline and now the watch works well! Pat #SEIKO_Melodies_in_Motion_24 • Yes that's the model I have. Very happy with it so far! #SEIKO_MelodiesQUESTION: YOU CAN CHANGE OR ADD YOUR OWN SONGS AS WITH A MEMORY CARD • Not with this watch. You have a selection of popular, classic and Christmas music with 8 songs in each setting. • There are no memory card tracks so you can add your own songs. It's actually a great option to wear a musical watch. Seiko melody wall clock unfortunately does not give you that option. • No. The songs are pre-programmed. You can choose which set of songs to play by moving a selector switch. #in_Motion_24QUESTION: WHAT IS THE AMAZON ASIN NUMBER FOR THIS PRODUCT?
